

Oxygenetix →

Following its hero post-procedural foundation, Oxygenetix has launched Acne Control Foundation. Like its predecessor, this new base make-up contains the brand's patent-pending Ceravitea complex, which is designed to promote collagen production and attract oxygen to help skin breathe. The new product also contains 2% salicylic acid to treat acne as well as cover it.

Trade price is £30. Call Medical Aesthetic Supplies on 023 8067 6733

Lynton ↓

Laser manufacturer Lynton is bringing a new post-laser skincare treatment to the market. Light Soothe is a serum designed to cool skin, moisturise and stimulate cell regeneration to repair skin and speed up the recovery process after treatment. Actives in the formula include manuka honey for its healing properties, and hyaluronic acid to help moisturise the skin.

RRP is £19.50. Call Lynton on 01477 536975

La Biosthetique ↑

La Biosthetique's winter make-up collection offers a glamorous twist on neutral shades, with a variety of natural colours from soft dusty pink and golden beige to auburn, rich brown and subtle grey. There are two shades of Sunlight Gloss for the lips, brown Sugar Hazel and red grape Sweet Berry, as well as silver-grey, taupe and gold eye shadows. The collection also includes the Tender Blush Passion Rose blusher, the liquid Smart Liner for eyes and a chocolate brown Brilliant Nail Terra polish.

RRPs start from £12.75 for Brilliant Nail Terra. Call La Biosthetique on 01296 611731

Australian Bodycare ↑

The skincare brand has launched a device for the retail shelves, to enhance clients' at-home skincare routines. The Active Brush Cleansing Skin Care System uses sonic technology to help lift impurities from the face and clear pores, and stimulate skin to reduce the appearance of fine lines. There are six attachment heads, including one for sensitive skin, one for body brushing, and the Derma Hydration Silicone Brush to help get skincare ingredients deeper into the epidermis.

Trade price is £40. Call Australian Bodycare on 01892 750850