The Source Clinic was founded by one of Scotland's leading beauty and aesthetic industry experts Julie Brown. After 13 years spent honing her skills in the UK's leading spa and beauty salons before taking the specialised path into the world of advance medical aesthetic centres, Julie decided to fuel her passion in the industry in 2019 by embarking on her very own project, The Source Clinic.

What was it that inspired The Source Clinic?

I believe that not all skin is the same and knowing how my skin can change week to week, it can be hard for people to understand the world of skincare and treatments. I wanted to create somewhere clients could feel comfortable talking about skin concerns and be confident that their goals could be achieved using medical grade products, technology and knowledge. The Source Clinic is about treating every client as an individual, we want to give honest results and help to empower our clients with the knowledge and skills to care for their skin and wellbeing.

What Lynton equipment do you use at The Source Clinic?

We have the 3JUVE® Facial Rejuvenation platform in the clinic. It works perfectly with our current treatment range as we concentrate so much on the skin. It gives us 3 platforms to treat clients with; Rebright, ResurFACE and Remodel. It's fantastic for tailoring courses of treatments to help our clients, to be able to work on their individual concerns and to assist in them having the best version of their own skin.

And are you happy with the clinical results you see?

The Results we have achieved in clinic have been fantastic with all 3 technologies and our clients are delighted with the results they are achieving. The results are some of the best I've seen from other similar technologies over the years in the industry.

Why did you choose Lynton as your aesthetic technology supplier?

I was initially recommended to contact Lynton. I really like the fact they are a British company and the machines are manufactured here in the UK. The training is second to none and the support right from deciding on the machine through to purchase and aftercare support has been fantastic.

What advice would you give to a clinic considering laser or IPL?

Firstly, I would advise to look at which technologies and treatments you would like to use and have available in your clinic. Training is a huge part of achieving the best results for your clients, so have a look at ongoing and advanced training, as well as the initial manufacturers training. Make sure the results that can be achieved are fantastic, and the treatments can fit in well alongside other skin and body treatments you may already offer or be looking to offer. I think there is an option available for all with Lynton!
